MINISTRY OF FOODRESOLUTIONNew Delhi, the 6th May 1949*

No. PY.625/2.—The Government of India have already announced their policy of securing freedom from dependence on imports of foodgrains by the end of 1951 and action is being taken separately to intensify foodgrain cultivation with a view to increase production as rapidly as possible. Cereals form a much larger proportion in the diet of the people in India than they do in most other countries and the Government feel that if this dependence on cereals could be reduced even by a small percentage, the need for imports from overseas would be proportionately reduced. Some of the root crops like sweet potatoes and tapioca and fruits like bananas, papayas etc. give a very high yield per acre and are acceptable foods of high nutritional value. So far sufficient emphasis has not been laid on their production and utilisation. The Government of India have, therefore, decided to set up in the Ministry of Food a "Subsidiary Food Production Committee" for this purpose.

2. Before any large scale scheme of this type can be undertaken it would be necessary to study a number of technical and other problems regarding storage, keeping quality, palatability, dehydration, cost etc. It is, therefore, proposed that in the first instance the Subsidiary Food Production Committee should undertake its work on an experimental basis but on a sufficiently large scale and place before Government by the end of January 1950, its conclusions on the feasibility of the scheme, the extent to which and the form in which it should be expanded and the likely cost involved, so that, if large scale production has to be undertaken, arrangements could be made in sufficient time for the expansion of production in 1950.

3. The Committee will consist of:—

1. Chairman—The Hon'ble the Minister for Food and Agriculture
2. Vice-Chairman—Shri Shri Ram.
3. Member—Shri S. V. Ramamurti.
4. Joint Secretary—Ministry of Food—Ex-Officio

There will be a Secretary of the Committee who will be its Chief Executive Officer. Joint Financial Adviser (Food) will be the Financial Adviser of the Committee.

4. A sum of Rs. 10 lakhs will, in the first instance, be placed at the disposal of the Committee to enable it to undertake the work entrusted to it. Subject to such directions as the Government of India may issue from time to time, the Committee will be competent to devise its own method of procedure and will exercise full financial powers subject to the following limitations:—

(a) The total net expenditure on all activities of the Committee, including expenditure on the staff shall not exceed Rs. 10 lakhs without the previous sanction of the Ministry of Food.

(b) No expenditure will be incurred by the Committee except with the concurrence of the Joint Financial Adviser (Food). In case of disagreement between the Committee and the Joint Financial Adviser (Food) the matter will be referred to the Ministry of Food for decision.

(c) All expenditure on staff to be employed at the headquarters of the Committee will require the sanction of the Ministry of Food
